King Victor Emmanuel Demands that Whatever Parliament Takes be Unanimous — Guards Mobilized at the Austrian Embassy to Prevent Attacks — Palace Offered for Use as a War Hospital.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
Rome, May 14, 2:30 a.m.—The Italian Cabinet has resigned. "The Council of Ministers," says Reuter's Rome correspondent, "considering that it did not possess the unanimous assent of all the parties regarding its international policy, which was the basis of the situation demands, has decided to hand its resignation to the King. An official note to this effect was issued tonight. The King has reserved his decision as to whether the resignation is accepted."

At the meeting held today for the signing of the peace treaty, the Italian government was dissolved, and the King, Victor Emmanuel, expressed the opinion that the government was not strong enough to carry out its policy. The King's decision was reserved until tomorrow. COMMENT ON THE SITUATION. The Wilson note is well on the way. All ears are keyed for the answer of Berlin. Will there be war between Germany and the United States? It is for the Kaiser to decide. Mr. Wilson has so far phrased a diplomatic message signed by Mr. Bryan's name that the onus is all on the Kaiser. But there are some who think that the Kaiser is all on the Kaiser. FEW OF GOLIATH CREW SAVED; TWO TURKISH GUNBOATS SUNK.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, May 14.—A dispatch to the Times from Moudros, island of Lemnos, says the coast line of the Gallipoli Peninsula now is in the allies' possession and that troop ships from Egypt and France are landing reinforcements and guns.

LONDON, May 13.—The British battleship Goliath has been torpedoed in the Dardanelles. It is feared 500 lives have been lost. Announcement of the loss of the Goliath was made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty. While no definite information apparently has been received as to the number of lives lost, Mr. Churchill said he feared it would reach 500. Mr. Churchill also announced that the British submarine E-14 had penetrated through the Dardanelles and into the Sea of Marmora, sinking two Turkish gunboats and a Turkish transport. Twenty officers and 140 men of the Goliath's crew were saved. Mr. Churchill, on announcing the loss of the Goliath, said: "The Goliath was torpedoed last night in a torpedo attack by destroyers, while protecting the French fleet just inside the straits. Twenty officers and 140 men were saved, which, I fear, means that over 500 were lost. The admiral commanding at the Dardanelles also telegraphs that the submarine E-14, which, with so much daring, penetrated to the Sea of Marmora, has reported that she sank two Turkish gunboats and a large Turkish transport."

KAISER TO FIND A WAY TO PREVENT A CRISIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Although the German Embassy announced in a statement that it had no information as to the reply the German government would make to the American note, tension over the situation was diminished somewhat in Austro-German quarters because of the belief that Germany, being desirous of preserving friendly relations with the United States, probably would find some way of meeting the American government's position without developing a crisis. It was admitted by well-informed diplomats that this was the hope of German officials here, although on account of difficulties in communication they preferred to be uninformed as to the views of the German government.

GERMANS MAKE APPEAL TO AMERICAN CONSULATE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
LONDON, May 13.—Streams of Germans poured into the American consulate all day. The Consul-General, Robert P. Skinner, was unable to do anything for them except to make an appeal in their behalf to Scotland Yard, which promised to do its utmost to protect them. Mr. Skinner is taking statements from the Germans as to the extent of damage sustained in the riots. These statements show heavy losses among shopkeepers, one of whom states that he suffered property damage to the extent of $10,000. Few of the Germans who went to the consulate have suffered personal injury and many of them have not been molested in any way. They were advised to apply to the German branch of the American Embassy at Carlton House Terrace, the former location of the German Embassy. These persons, shops suffered.

PRESIDENT FEARS THE WORST, BUT IS HOPING FOR THE BEST.

"Disavow the Infamy of Submarine Warfare," is Formula of the United States' Demands.

Believing the People are with Him to a Man, the Executive is Prepared for Any Contingency in View of the Inability of the Kaiser to Deliver a Blow at This Country. Guesses as to the Reply of Berlin.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 13.—President Wilson has spoken to Germany. He has done so with the voice of the people of the United States. There is restraint in what the President has said; there is vigor in his demands. He appeals to the past "humane and enlightened attitude" of the German government, to its sense of "justice and humanity." But he insists upon reparation, if there can be reparation, for what has occurred and complete, far-reaching guarantees for the future.

DEMANDS SUMMARIZED.
Here are the President's demands:
(1) Disavowal of the acts of the submarine commanders.
(2) Reparation, so far as reparation is possible, "for injuries without measure."
(3) Immediate steps to cease submarine operations against mercantile craft, whatever their nationality.

A BLOW AT THE HEART.
The President has struck at the very heart of the German policy of starving out England, as the latter is seeking to starve out Germany. He has told Germany in unmistakable language that the United States does not and will not approve a practice which subjects neutral nations and neutral persons to new and immeasurable risks. He has declared that the submarine is not a weapon to be used in the way Germany has used them.

He has asked Germany to say that what she is doing is in violation of the principles of humanity, that she never issued the orders proclaimed by her to the world and under which her submarine commanders acted. He requires her to give up the sole means she possesses for striking at England upon the seas.

Herein lies the gravity of the President's communication, the danger in the relations of the United States and Germany.

Can Germany "save her face" and comply with the President's demands?
There is no one here who believes she can. She might be willing to reiterate her regret at the loss of American lives. She might be willing to make reparation, even in the case of the Americans who went down in the Falaba and Lusitania as well as in that of the Gulf-light. But, German diplomats here say that to expect her to disavow the action of her submarine commanders who were merely executing the orders they received, to expect her to cease the use of a policy against commerce with her enemies, frankly adopted in retaliation for what they had done to her, is to expect the impossible.

FEAR THE WORST.
The President and his advisers hope for the best; they fear the worst. They apprehend the German government will say to Ambassador Gerard that his presence in Berlin is no longer desirable, or, if it does not take this summary step, it will advise the United States of the reasons which impelled it to make submarine warfare upon mercantile craft and express its willingness to cease this practice if Great Britain can be induced to permit the importation of foodstuffs and industrial supplies for the use of the German people.

The President is prepared for any contingency, in view of the inability of the German government to strike the United States. He is satisfied that what he has done expresses the solid public opinion of the American people. He feels they realize the duty and responsibility imposed upon their government by the tragic events which Germany caused. He is confident that when they read his note they will hold that he has discharged this duty and responsibility, that in a united fashion they will stand behind him, and that they will be ready to support him in whatever fashion German action may require.

Written in such a lofty spirit, in vindication not merely of American, but of the rights of all neutrals, it is the confident expectation of the President that every nation not at war will approve what he has done. He expects that they will translate their approval into action, that they, too, will send notes to Berlin, couched in the same vigorous language of objection and that they will be prepared for the consequences as the United States is prepared.

A NEUTRAL VIEW.
"Of course, I have not seen the American note," said one distinguished neutral Ambassador tonight, "but I have no hesitancy in saying that if it is as strong as the press reports indicate, every neutral government will sanction the President's requirement that submarine attack upon mercantile craft shall cease. I am satisfied my government will make representations to Berlin in a similar sense and that other neutral governments will do likewise. The question is not one which concerns the United States alone. The President has been careful to make that clear. It is one which concerns all neutrals and the belligerents also, if they are in a frame of mind to see it. You will recall that following the American protest to Berlin against the Berlin decree authorizing the submarine war, other neutrals presented their objections. You will find this will be done in the present case." One of the striking features of the American note is that it charges that the American oil tank steamer Gulfight was disabled by

HUERTA FAMILY AT NEW YORK

WIFE AND BIG ENTourage, THIRTY IN ALL, LANDED FROM LINER.

[BY NIGHT WIRE.—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 13.—Customs men who boarded the Spanish liner Manuel Calvo at quarantine this evening were surprised to find among the passengers, Senora Emilia Huerta, wife of Gen. Victoriano Huerta, three married daughters and their husbands, two unmarried daughters, several grandchildren, tutors, and Ferdinand Gil, advisor and interpreter for the party and a friend of the general. There were thirty persons in the party, which had 100 pieces of baggage. Customs men passed all hands as expeditiously as possible, considering the extent of their belongings.

The annual election of officers of the Sons of Veterans resulted as follows: J. W. Cook, San Jose, Division Commander; F. A. Paugh, Los Angeles, Senior Vice-Commander; M. P. Seelye, San Francisco, Junior Vice-Commander.

The Ladies of the G.A.R. will hold their election tomorrow morning.

RUSSIANS TAKE MANY PRISONERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] PETROGRAD, May 13 (via London).—The following official statement from general headquarters was issued tonight:

"On Tuesday night the enemy began an offensive with large forces in the region of Shavli. In an attempt to retain this road center. During the night, we successfully repulsed five attacks and the following morning, by an energetic stroke we defeated a German outflanking column, capturing several hundred prisoners and five guns. The fighting continued on the Dubica River on the same day. We captured a hostile position near Byarsola (or Jaisagol) thirty miles northwest of Kovno. On the left bank of the Niemen there has been no change."

"On the right bank of the Orzvo our trench mortars bombarded the enemy's trenches with great success. In Western Galicia the intensity of the fighting decreased on a considerable part of the front during Tuesday and Wednesday."

"Our offensive on the right bank of the Dniester is meeting with continued success. The enemy on Tuesday made several fruitless counterattacks to relieve his center which was retreating in disorder on the Dniester toward the Obertyn-Horodenka line (these towns are in the extreme east of Galicia. Obertyn is almost north and Horodenka is northeast of Kolomey)."

"In this operation the Austrian units which led the offensive were repulsed near Chocimierz, northwest of Obertyn, with heavy losses. Our artillery annihilated two entire battalions, and a third suffered severely."

"Near Horodenka the enemy gave way about 7 o'clock in the evening of the same day and began a disorderly retreat. We captured several thousand additional prisoners, a number of guns and about fifty ammunition caissons."

FOR A UNIFORM PURE FOOD LAW.

Legislation for Each State Urged by the Grocers.

Cincinnati or New Orleans Get Next Convention.

Three Officers are Nominated Without Opposition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Nominations of Cincinnati and New Orleans as convention cities and of a full list of officers were made at the session today of the Retail Grocers' Association. The election will be held tomorrow. Three officers were nominated without opposition. They were: President, Frank B. Connolly, San Francisco; vice-president, John H. Scheffer, Davenport, Iowa, and treasurer, William Jeffery, New York.

Walter B. Cherry of Syracuse, N. Y., president of the American Specialty Manufacturers' Association, in an address before the convention, urged a uniform pure food law for every State in the Union. At his suggestion a committee of three was ordered appointed from the National Retail Grocers' Association to meet with similar committees from the Specialty Manufacturers' Association and the National Wholesale Grocers' Association to consider legislative problems and other matters relating to a uniform pure food law throughout the United States.

Oscar B. McGlashan of Chicago, president of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, told the convention that the Federal government is rapidly drifting into socialistic ownership of big business. He severely criticized the parcel post as rapidly killing small merchants by creating commercial channels that lead to the large cities. He compared the national government to a retail grocer, delivering by parcel post eggs, butter, vegetables and hams from the farm to the city table.

RESERVE SYSTEM TO BE ENLARGED.

STATE BANKS ARE PERMITTED TO ENTER FEDERAL BOARD RULING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] WASHINGTON, May 13.—After consideration lasting several months, the Federal Reserve Board has virtually decided that it will allow State banks to enter the Federal reserve system with the right to withdraw and surrender membership if they so desire.

This is regarded in Washington as the most important decision reached by the board in many months, and is believed to assure the entrance of hundreds of strong State institutions into the system. Early in consideration the problem of the Federal Reserve System was the subject of a report by State bankers that their principal objection to entering was that apparently whenever in their must surrender their charters or liquidate to get out.

CHINA REPLIES TO ULTIMATUM

Declares Action of Japanese Unexpectedly Drastic.

Sending Army to Shantung Aroused Indignation.

Peking Explains Experience in Leasing of Territory.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] PEKING, May 13 (via London).—The Chinese government has issued a frank and plain statement connected with "the drastic action of Japan" in presenting its ultimatum on May 7.

Containing that China aimed at the consolidation of the friendship existing between China and Japan and was particularly solicitous for the preservation of peace in the Far East, the statement says:

"Unexpectedly on January 15 Japan adopted the unusual course of presenting a list of twenty-one momentous demands arranged in five groups. The first four groups were each introduced by a preamble, but there was no explanation to the fifth group. Respecting the character of the demands in this group, however, no difference was indicated in the document between them and those embodied in the preceding groups."

"Although there was no cause for such a demarche, the Chinese government, in deference to the wishes of the Japanese government, immediately agreed to open negotiations on those articles which it was possible for China to consider. Despite the palatability of the whole of the demands, being intended to extend the rights and interests of Japan without securing a quid pro quo of any kind for China, China approached the pending conference in a spirit of the utmost friendliness and with the desire to reach an agreement."

China also asked for the assumption by Japan of the responsibility for indemnification for losses arising from the military operations; that the customs, telegraphs and post offices should be continued to be administered as heretofore; and that the military railways and telegraphs installed by Japan should be removed forthwith; that the Japanese fleet should be recalled when Kiaochow was returned to China.

Other demands agreed to by China were: That China should not cede or lease to any third power any territory inland or island on the sea, bordering or adjacent to the sea, or any rights and interests of Japan without giving preference, provided Germany abandoned her privilege of supplying capital for the construction of a railway from Chiao-Chow to Lungkow in connection with the Kiaochow-Chinanfu termination to deal with all questions frankly and sincerely."

COMPLAINT OF CHINA. The document complains about the formation and procedure of the conference and about Japan's usual agreement to sign the minutes of the conference and the suspensions of meetings, obviously with the object of compelling compliance with the views of the Japanese Minister.

Even when Japan dispatched large bodies of troops to Chantung province and Manchuria, with the ostensible purpose of relieving the garrisons, it is pointed out China, although the action caused indignation and alarm on the part of the Chinese people, exerted its influence to prevent a rupture of the negotiations.

"Throughout the conference," says the statement, "the Chinese government steadfastly strove to arrive at an amicable settlement and made every concession possible. Of the twenty-one demands submitted, China agreed to fifteen, some in principle, some textually, six of them being initiated by both parties."

There is then set out at great length the demands to which China agreed. At the first conference she agreed to the demand that the matter should be left to a discussion of all the parties interested at a peace conference and that Japan should agree to restore the leased property to China. This, it is contended, was not a demand on Japan, but a reiteration of Japan's statement made in an ultimatum to Germany last August.

LOSS INDEMNIFICATION. China also asked for the assumption by Japan of the responsibility for indemnification for losses arising from the military operations; that the customs, telegraphs and post offices should be continued to be administered as heretofore; and that the military railways and telegraphs installed by Japan should be removed forthwith; that the Japanese fleet should be recalled when Kiaochow was returned to China.

Of the twenty-one demands submitted, China agreed to fifteen, some in principle, some textually, six of them being initiated by both parties."

There is then set out at great length the demands to which China agreed. At the first conference she agreed to the demand that the matter should be left to a discussion of all the parties interested at a peace conference and that Japan should agree to restore the leased property to China. This, it is contended, was not a demand on Japan, but a reiteration of Japan's statement made in an ultimatum to Germany last August.

LOSS INDEMNIFICATION. China also asked for the assumption by Japan of the responsibility for indemnification for losses arising from the military operations; that the customs, telegraphs and post offices should be continued to be administered as heretofore; and that the military railways and telegraphs installed by Japan should be removed forthwith; that the Japanese fleet should be recalled when Kiaochow was returned to China.

Other demands agreed to by China were: That China should not cede or lease to any third power any territory inland or island on the sea, bordering or adjacent to the sea, or any rights and interests of Japan without giving preference, provided Germany abandoned her privilege of supplying capital for the construction of a railway from Chiao-Chow to Lungkow in connection with the Kiaochow-Chinanfu

RAILROADS ARE FORBIDDEN TO AUTOMATICALLY PUT 10 PER CENT. ONTO THEIR CHARGES BECAUSE OF NEW LAW.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Interstate Commerce Commission decided today that railroads should not automatically increase their freight rates 10 per cent. because on June 3 the so-called Cummins amendment to the rate law becomes effective, prohibiting any limitation of the liability of a carrier to a shipper. Railroads had argued that the increased liability automatically raised their rates 10 per cent.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Norway's Independence Day.

Arrangements have been completed for the celebration of Norway's independence day Sunday next in Eagle Rock Park. In the forenoon the several Norwegian churches will hold services on the grounds and the afternoon will be devoted to speeches and programs.

Big Bond Issue Approved.

Approval of an agreement between the Southern California Edison Company and the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank trustees, providing for an issue of $5,000,000 of five-year 6 per cent debentures, $2,500,000 at this time, is given by the board of directors yesterday by the State Railroad Commission.

New Jersey Governor Coming.

Gov. Fisher of New Jersey and members of the State's commission to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will arrive here tomorrow morning and will be entertained by the Chamber of Commerce and the 1914 General Committee of Los Angeles City and County with an automobile trip about the city.

Showing Them.

Gov. Goldborough and members of the Maryland State Commission to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition were entertained yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce with an automobile trip about the city and a visit to the "Mission Play." The party will visit Pasadena today and have luncheon at the Hotel Maryland.

Benefit Card Party.

Prominent men and women of Los Angeles will assist in carrying out plans for a card party to be given next Monday, at the Golden-Bowley auditorium for the benefit of the Florence Crittenton Home, which will have five hundred will be played and arrangements are being made for the entertainment of a large crowd. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of linen for the home. The admission is 25 cents.

That L.A.I. Case.

Additional subpoenas for witnesses in behalf of the government in the criminal charge against Charles A. Elder and others, former officers and employees of the Los Angeles Investment Company, which was filed May 21, have been issued by the clerk of the United States District Court. The witnesses now number nearly 100. The last batch served are those who live in Los Angeles and vicinity. In the first lot were persons from a half dozen States.

Put Out Your Flag.

With the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association, the Northern Exposition Association, the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges and the National Federation of Musical Clubs and other organizations to hold conventions here in the near future, the 1914 General Committee of Los Angeles City and County issued a call yesterday for a general decoration of business houses with American flags and the new colors. The General Committee also authorized increased expenditures for the entertainment of the constantly-increasing number of distinguished persons who are visiting this city.

Temple B'nai Brith.

Sabbath services at Temple B'nai Brith will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock; the usual children's service preceding at 9:45 o'clock. Dr. Hoch will be in charge, and will speak this evening on "Crises in National Religious Life." Tomorrow morning he will speak on "Numbers," taking his subject from the current Scripture lesson, and will deliver a sermonette to his juvenile congregation. The solo at this evening's service will be Harry Rowe Shelley's "The Name of God," rendered by the choir of the temple choir, Miss Kle Julie Christen. Next Wednesday the Pentecost or Feast of Weeks will be observed at the temple, when a class of twenty-three young people will be confirmed.

PERSONALS.

FIRST PRIZE TO ARGENTINA?

CARNegie FOUNDATION HEAD DROPS BROAD HINT.

Member of the Jury that Made as Yet Unannounced Awards for the Schools Plants of All Nations at San Francisco Fair Here—He Does Not Tell Who Won, but —

Praise for the educational exhibits of the South American countries at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition was voiced here yesterday by Dr. William F. Stocum, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and one of the exposition's board of educational advisors.

"Argentina sent one of the finest exhibits that I have ever seen," said Dr. Stocum, who was here en route from San Francisco to his home at Colorado Springs. "All the South American countries, for that matter, sent fine exhibits. They have evidently made most magnificent strides in educational work in Latin America."

"Yes, we have made our awards," he continued, "and they will probably be announced shortly by the management of the exposition. Our work covered colleges, universities, museums and libraries, with particular attention to educational institutions. The task of judging was difficult, but that the strides of that country ranking high."

No intimation of the probable recipient of the highest award was made by Dr. Stocum, other than dwelling with particular emphasis on the exhibits from Argentina and pointing out that the strides of that country in the realm of higher education have manifested been rapid.

Speaking of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Dr. Stocum stated that he believes that it is doing a great work and has an immense field for active growth.

Dr. Stocum was accompanied by his wife. He has been for many years the president of Colorado College and also president of the State Board of Charities and Corrections of Colorado. Associated with Dr. Stocum on the exposition's board for educational awards were, among others, President Wheeler of the University of California, Ernest Nelson, Minister of Education of Argentina; El Conde de Valle de Salazar, a Spanish educator of note and representative of the King of Spain; and Dr. W. J. Holland, director of the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Stocum has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Gertrude E. Newton, No. 237 North Avenue Twenty-two, and has also been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pierce, No. 1409 West Fifty-fourth street, during his few days' stay here.

Mr. Gordon says:

Old times love San Francisco for herself—for just what she is. For her hours of sunshine and her daily hours of tingling fog and mist.

But they dress for it, not in panamas and white flannels, but in "between seasons" sort of clothes—neither very heavy or very

Oratorical Battle Climax in Closing Arguments.

Expect Famous Case to go to Jury Before Night.

Strong Appeals Both Ways

as End Nears.

The Sebastian-Pratt case is expected to be submitted to the jury some time this afternoon. A quick verdict is looked for by court attachés who have closely followed the trial. At torney Rogers will make the closing argument for the defense this morning and Dist. Atty. Woolwine will finish his remarks this afternoon. It will take Judge Wood about half an hour to read his instructions.

The oratorical battle in the famous trial will reach its climax today,

when Mr. Rogers and Mr. Woolwine address the jury. Mr. Rogers will talk two hours and Mr. Woolwine about the same length of time. Both attorneys spent the day in preparing their arguments.

Attorneys Ford and Giesler spoke for the defense yesterday and Deputy

District Attorney Koyes for the prosecution.

Each made a strong appeal to the jury from his viewpoint. Both

Mr. Ford and Mr. Giesler charged that the prosecution of Chief

Sebastian is the result of a "frame-up."

Mr. Koyes said that if they would give him the names of the conspirators he would prosecute them the same as he has Chief Sebastian.

AS CASE OF OLD.

Mr. Ford compared the trial of the Chief and Mrs. Pratt with the trial of the nineteen witches in Salem, "convicted on charges we now know could not be true." He said that if anything, the Salem trial produced better evidence than this trial, for "toothmarks" alleged to have been made by the witches were shown, while in this case not a pic-widely-known man recently stated that a "small number" of the people of California before our government could lift a hand. I have doubts that the living element of Japan could do so. The Japanese government is small yet it has the power to do terrible things. We are not entirely blameless in the terrible disaster of the Lusitania, which ship was sunk by a submarine manufactured by an American citizen, destined to destroy thousands of lives on European shores. I am sure that the United States law which will prohibit the shipment of munitions of war by neutral countries is a just law.

Millionaires, matinee idols, Prince Charmings and football players may occupy a girl's imagination; but the man she idealizes is the plain person next door who cheerfully shares his pay envelope with his wife.

Mrs. Alice Wemlund Rigg, the Swedish soprano, who but recently returned from a winter in New York and England, entertained informally with a musicale at her home, No. 24 Waterloo street, Tuesday last. Miss Margaret White gave several piano numbers. Miss Hildreth Koch gave readings, and Mrs. Clara Woodson accompanied. Mrs. V. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Green, Miss Edna Bendixen and Miss Ruth Wemlund assisted in receiving guests.

While there were certain unusual features in the early part of O'erner's programme last night the Gamut Club Auditorium, she needed in making one forget many things with her charming interpretation of her own compositions. The first half of the evening.

There was a naturalness of expression and graceful consciousness of the audience which was quite fascinating and they decided a contrast to the unpopular paths which she sought to follow. The programme included "Dawning" (Cadman), "Little Home in the West," and those which were new to the audience, "A Little Kiss," "Wonderful Garden," and "The Little Girl."

special parade and demonstration by one of the companies of the 1st Battalion of Battery A, First Field Artillery, N.G.C., to stimulate recruiting in the battery. Capt. Jesse McCoombs, commanding officer of the battery, led a marching section from the army post position Park. Marching through the city, the section finally halted at the intersection of Broadway and Washington street. Here the artillerymen gathered and went through the evolutions of loading and firing. McCoombs said that he might have received a number of applications, but, as he did not have time to consider them, he will consider the evening's work as a success. The parade was continued today and tomorrow.

DUCK INFIELD TO BE WONDER.

Judge McCredie is Ticked Over Outlook.

Stumpf to be Switched to Shortstop.

Bates Looks Like Best of Third Sackers.

PORTLAND (Or.) May 13.—"With Bill Rodgers back at second, I think the Portland team will have the greatest infield it has ever had," said Judge McCredie today. "Of course, this takes into consideration the fact that the papers are not overrating Bates, the new third baseman. It will be the best infield in the Pacific Coast League."

While the Portland magazine generally leaves questions of baseball to the players, manager of the club, it looks as if he were right in his prediction, although Portland fans have not seen this fellow Bates in action.

"The infield of last year, which looked as if all four members were looking for chances in the show, and would have been but for the failure of the St. Louis Browns to offer suitable players for Fred Derick, was the greatest that Portland had ever had," says the judge.

STUMPF AT SHORT. With Rodgers' return, Stumpf will be shifted to short. Now Stumpf won't be the sensational fielder there that Bancroft was, but he covers a world of ground, has a good arm, can run the bases as well as Dave and will hit thirty points more than the youngster who is playing such great ball for the Philadelphia Nationals.

BEST THIRD-SACKER. Walter McCredie has already said that Bates, after watching him in the San Francisco series, is the best third baseman in the circuit. Every San Francisco and Oakland newspaper critic who has seen him in action, has also put the stamp of approval on the young man. Bates hit .290 in the American Association last year, and was one of the best fielding third basemen in the league.

This means, believes Walter's uncle, that any or all of the day's doings, but it was a double that landed on the bases in the first. Walter Boles also clicked one for a double in the eighth, and Stumpf probably not quite as good as Bancroft, as the Seavers had last year.

COLLEGIANS MAKING JOKE OF SOUTHERN A.A.U. MEET.

Many Varsity Men Quit Cold When the Los Angeles Athletic Club Announces Line-up—Coaches Baby Students—Small Squads Out—No Real Training Done by Local Teams.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA college athletes are making a joke of the A.A.U. meet, scheduled for May 22 at Boreas Field. The varsity stars are in poor condition. The 1915 track season has been a long-drawn-out series of uninteresting melees, and the young men who are known to the friends as athletes are lazily waiting away the days, waiting for the season to come to a close.

There are not enough men in the whole of Southern California training for the A.A.U. meet to carry the mail in the town of Klamath, Cal. The few who are training are second-rate. The stars are perfectly content to clown the coming meet.

MANY QUITTERS. Many so-called regular athletes quit cold when the line-up of the Los Angeles Athletic Club track brigade was announced. They did not have the necessary amount of money to cover. With the exception of a select few, Southern California college athletes are a lot of pampered babies with about as much pep as a tank full of rheumatic jellyfish, and yellow streaks as wide as the stripes on a cavalry captain's pants. Southern California athletes work through a season with as little training as possible, which is usually none at all, just hoping to get by on account of the lack of competition for places on the teams, these physical jokes make the squads.

COACHES BLAMELESS. It is not the fault of the coaches. Southern California has the best coaches to be had in the country. Men with national reputations are on the job to work the raw material into finished athletic timber; but there is little material to work on and that which is roped in is hard to handle. At U.S.C., for instance, the coach has to beg men to get out and try for the team. He has to kid some youngsters into believing that they are little bit heroes, to get them into the athletic suits supplied by the university. There are others who fall for the old blue sky and these hikes get out and often make the best athletes in the institution, because the coach has been wise enough to get them to fall for the romantic and of sport.

WRONG IDEA. The Southern California athlete does not know what it is to train. There is not one man in every ten among the Southern California college athletes who has the manhood to lay off the high life and really train. It takes the same stuff to train for ath-

STANFORD AND BERKELEY HOLD SECRET MEETING.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Alumni committees representing the University of California and Stanford University met today to attempt settlement of the threatened severance of athletic relations between the two universities. No statement was made of the result.

It is understood a compromise agreement suggested, provided that Stanford be allowed to continue the entrance of freshmen in athletic events for two and a half years and thereafter adopt California's present policy of excluding freshmen from athletics. The five-year athletic agreement of the two institutions was not renewed recently because California insisted on the elimination of freshmen whom Stanford allowed to compete. California refused to arbitrate the matter.

Luck Changes.

POP DILLON'S ANGELS SWAT THE BEE PITCHERS.

Abstein, Rube Ellis and Boles Slam Out Doubles and Drive in the Runs that Give Los Angeles Revenge. Claude Williams and Alex Remnes Were the Luckless Heavers.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SALT LAKE, May 13.—Pop Dillon's Angels wreaked a whole lot of vengeance, all in a bunch, on the Bumblebees here this afternoon. First they handed Claude Williams a wallop and then what they did to Alex Remnes, late of St. Louis city series fame, had nothing the matter with it. Old Tom Hughes also had his troubles, but in front of such clouting as the Dillon crew put on he hadn't a chance to lose.

The B's played considerable daisy baseball behind their pitchers, but they had every reason in the world to love their pep, for after they had tied up the three-run lead which left Williams behind the visitors in the opener, Claude was nipped so hard that he gave it right back and it looked like a case of "no use."

ELLIS AND ABSTEIN. The chief offenders in the attack were Ellis and Abstein. Ellis found the B's in a jam for four hits, two of them doubles, a walk and two runs. In addition to that he hit three of the Angel scores. Bill Abstein got but one hit out of the day's doings, but it was a double that landed on the bases in the first. Walter Boles also clicked one for a double in the eighth, and Stumpf probably not quite as good as Bancroft, as the Seavers had last year.

ABE ATTELL TO BOX KILBANE TEN ROUNDS.

ABE ATTELL, former featherweight champion of the world and admittedly one of the cleverest boxers the ring ever had, tonight got his longest for chance to get back in the fight game, when Joe Levison, his New York representative, wired Attell here that he had signed Johnny Kilbane, the present featherweight champion for a ten-round bout in New York city on June 11, next.

DENVER, May 13.—Abe Attell, former featherweight champion of the world and admittedly one of the cleverest boxers the ring ever had, tonight got his longest for chance to get back in the fight game, when Joe Levison, his New York representative, wired Attell here that he had signed Johnny Kilbane, the present featherweight champion for a ten-round bout in New York city on June 11, next.

The telegram pleased Attell as much as a bag with a new kick. He said that he would sign the papers for the match as soon as they were forwarded to him. The message did not state what club the fight would be staged by and Attell said he was under the impression it would be in the open air.

Attell is now on a vaudeville circuit, working eastward and will arrive in New York in time to put any finishing touches on his condition needed for the contest. Ring dopsters will recall that it was to Johnny Kilbane that Attell lost the featherweight crown after twenty grueling rounds, February 23, 1911, at the Vernon Arena, Los Angeles.

HARVARD COACH QUILTS HIS JOB.

DR. SEXTON SAYS THERE ARE TOO MANY AIDS.

Persistent interference by Advisory Committee in baseball resignation—Denies that He Consented to Take Advice from Wendell and Reid.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 13.—Dr. Frank J. Sexton, who since 1911 has been the head coach of the Harvard University baseball nine, sent his resignation today to the members of the Harvard Advisory Baseball Committee, and it was accepted. Dr. Sexton states that he resigned because of the persistent interference of the committee with his work as coach, and the committee accepted the resignation because their views and those of the doctor's did not coincide regarding his being assisted in various departments of the game in which the committee believed the Crimson team has been weak.

Last Thursday the committee, and Dr. Sexton had a conference at which, according to the statement sent out by Graduate Treasurer Moore of Harvard, the coach agreed to allow Harvard Wendell, '02, and William T. Reid, '01, both old Harvard captains, to assist him in developing the outfield and the catchers.

Dr. Sexton, in turn, denies that he agreed to follow these suggestions and the break came today when the coach and the Baseball Committee failed to reach an understanding.

Dr. Sexton's Harvard teams have won two series from Yale and lost two.

ORANGE AND FULLERTON FINAL.

SANTA ANA, May 13.—The Santa Ana High School baseball field is being put into shape for the county championship game that will be played upon it Saturday afternoon between teams from the Orange Union and Fullerton Union High schools. Both Orange and Fullerton have good pitchers, and the game is likely to be a battle royal between the pitchers. Lash for Orange and Wilcox for Fullerton. In

Chance One of the Greatest Athletes that Ever Lived—Was Confronted by Every Obstacle.
History of Tigers Improve a.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

It was no cinch to break into baseball. The experienced athletes offered no encouragement to the budding phenom, they figuring that he might grab off their jobs. Nowadays the vets go out of their way to teach the young ideas, how to shoot. The recruits are coddled, massaged and given advice freely.

Chance, a strong, husky kid from the sand lots of Southern California, joined the Cubs in 1908 as a catcher. He was awkward but it was hard for him to keep out of his own way, but he had the build and instincts of a great player. At that time the Cubs had two veteran catchers, and it was important that a youngster be developed.

The Cubs did not take kindly to the youngster idea, and some of the old pitchers sympathized with them. Here is the story as told to me by a former National League player, now connected with the Coast League: "The Cub catchers were on the down grade, and they knew it. They did not fancy the idea of losing their jobs, which was but natural. They resented the presence of Chance. There was nothing personal in this. It was simply the instinct of self-preservation asserting itself. But the fact that the success of Chance would mean the loss of a job for one of the other them, they would not have opposed him. In fact, under other conditions they would have welcomed him sitting on the bench and watching him work."

"But they could not afford such a luxury as this, and everything possible was done to hamper the young recruit. The pitchers were with the old catchers, and saw the point. Time and again they would deliberately cross him. For instance, he would signal for a curve and they would shoot up a fast one. In grabbing for one of these fast ones when set for a curve he had the bone in one of his fingers shattered to a pulp. When a catcher is expecting a fast one, and the pitcher throws a curve it isn't so bad. But to get a fast one when you are anticipating a curve means a passed ball or a busted hand, as a rule."

"But it was no use. Chance faced it, and took the punishment without a quiver. During it he proved to me that he was one of the greatest men that ever broke into the game. If some of our recruits had to go through what Chance did the first year that he was with Chicago they surely would curl up and quit."

"Despite these handicaps, Chance made good as a catcher. The late Frank Selles, however, saw greater possibilities in him as a first baseman, and shifted him to that position, where he has had few equals."

Battling Symptoms.
The Tigers displayed favorable battling symptoms yesterday. They made eight hits. That isn't so many, yet it shows an appreciable improvement. But the best part of it was that they got their hits when hits meant runs, and that is the main thing in batting. President Meier, having pursued the dope on each man, realized that the club had greater hitting strength than its work in the past couple of weeks would indicate, unless the figures were utterly misleading. He prescribed more batting practice as the surest remedy for the hitless ailment, and Dick Bayless, manager pro tem, had the boys out slugging the pill around bright and early yesterday.

Promote Bold.
New York yesterday sold Art Fromme to Jersey City in the International League. Meier made McGraw a very liberal offer for Fromme, but Mac seems to be pretty well tied up with the International League, and this prevented Fromme from securing the twirler. If Mitchell shows as much stuff as expected, the Fromme incident will be promptly forgotten.

TOKIO WANTS CHICAGO TEAM.
(BY A. P. MOUNT WEBB.)
CHICAGO, May 13.—The University of Chicago has received an invitation from the universities of Tokyo to have its baseball club visit Japan and play a series of games this summer and fall. It was announced today. The faculty board of athletic control, it is said, favors accepting the offer, although definite action has not been taken.

International Exposition, one of the world's greatest fairs. Did they avail themselves of the educational opportunity? No. The majority of the men made a quick get-away and returned home.

STAR QUEENERS.
They cared about as much for the exposition as the average Los Angeles citizen does for potted palms. They had dates mostly. The old co-ed stuff.

The Southern California college athletes studies some, chase much, trains none and when there is nothing else to do, exercise in athletic make-up occasionally. It is not so in the East. The eastern variety men train faithfully throughout the season. If he does not, he is kicked out of the squad. The training is so severe that the eastern man spends months working up to the place where he can make a college team. Many of the eastern colleges never break training during their whole college careers.

COACHES' TROUBLE.
Papa at Occidental has had a hard line. The line has nursed him ever since he has been at Occidental, but he has put out some excellent teams and developed some excellent athletes out of bush material in spite of the opposition.

REAL CONDITION.
It's a case of get into condition at Michigan, it's a case of be in condition and stay there or you won't star on the team," said the old Wolverine, who is none other than Harry Hanahan, well-known automobile man and former racing driver. "When I was at college I spent every summer working on a surveying gang in the mountains. When I had to carry the chain, level or transit, I did not walk, I ran—as fast as I could with the weight. It was carrying, as a result, when I returned to college in the fall I was as hard as spring steel, trained down and ready for the most strenuous work of the football season."

Vio Patten, another former Michigan player, spent the hot summer in Arizona, working for the Reclamation Service, before he jumped in as a real big league half-back. Patten never lost a pound, even in the hot days of July and August. He was full of life and when he was not tramping across the desert with a bundle of stakes on his back, he was running up and down the rugged slopes of the buttes and every day he took a long tramp over the rocks and through the desert sands. It was a case of get into condition and stay there, for recognition on Mr. Fox's squad.

THE OLD STUFF.
There was a time when the Los Angeles High School athletes would train all summer for the football season in the fall; but that was in the old days when athletes really trained. The picture shows, postcard, a cheap vaudeville, have all taken away the spirit of the athletes. The most popular man today is not the man who can win his letter in two, three or four branches of sport at college, but the man who can qualify as the best little fox trotter or the A. No. 1 hesitation or the best one-arm automobile driver. The only place where athletics gets a show is with some man who has everything else, and wants to put a little more on the ball to be stronger with the ladies.

Sweaters and medals often come in handy and the man who knows it is a cinch to win a few, goes out and wins a collection to give out like boxes of candy and bunches of A. B. roses, provided that he does not have to forego any of the social pleasures in order to win the glory badge.

One college coach who cannot be identified as he might lose his job for criticizing his own team, said at the conference meet held at Claremont last Saturday: "All these men want to win for today, is to get a medal. They do not care a rap for the points for their college. It's a case of intrinsic value. It's a huck-

DUCK CASTOFF BRINGS CASH.

(BY HARRY WEBB—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
ABERDEEN (Wash.) May 13.—Outfielder George Kiercher, who came to Aberdeen last week as a gift from Portland because Walter McCredie said he never could be a real baseball player, was sold today by Manager John Barnes to Nashville, Tenn., for $1000. Kiercher left for the South tonight. Barnes said today that he would never have let Kiercher go for that figure had the offer to sell not been made before Kiercher appeared in the Aberdeen lineup. Barnes received a telegram from Nashville Saturday morning asking his price.

He wired $1000, but later, tried to retract his offer. His efforts were too late. More released yesterday by Barnes was stoned today to play in Kiercher's position. Catcher Vance, who was released yesterday is said to be dickering for a job with Dugdale.

TACKLING DUMMY SCARES TROJANS.
The fighting Trojans pulled a canny when Coach Ralph Glaze exhibited a tackling dummy out at the Bovard athletic map at that. There is some exercise yard. With enough men out to make two football teams, the coach decided to work a little tackling and blocking into the spring practice. After several advance notices the dummy finally showed up. The fighting Trojans took just one look at the old canvas man and made a break for the other end of the field. Since then, the fighting Trojans are so afraid that they will be called upon to take a fall out of the athletic field. Judging from the amount of enthusiasm displayed by the near football heroes who are to wear the colors of the University of Southern California, next season, Mr. Glaze will have a team that will be able to make an excellent showing against some intermediate schools.

L. A. HIGH MEN START FOOTBALL.
INJURIES TO VETERANS WILL DELAY SEASON FOR A WEEK.
American football practice at the Los Angeles High School will not be going under full blast until next week, owing to the absence or injury of most of last year's men. Harry Sherman is out until next year on account of a bad knee. Nimmer is having trouble with a poisoned mitt. Babe Henry is having his eyes doctor, and most of the other stars are serving room 35—the detention room for cutting.

Coach Featherstone had the available material working on quick starts, passing, punting and catching the ball. Next week he will start using the dummy, falling on the ball and picking it up on the run. He will also talk to the boys on the inside stuff of American.

Featherstone will have a hard time picking a team out of the bunch of raw material out. It will take months of hard work to get the fellows in any kind of form to play the old game. Most of the boys out are new at the game, having played Rugby.

CO-ED VAULTS OVER SIX FEET.
(BY HARRY WEBB—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
BLOOMINGTON (Ind.) May 13.—A new world's record for the pole vault was established by an Indiana University co-ed here. Miss Pauline Siebensthal vaulted 6 ft. 11 in., which is five inches higher than the previous record held by a woman.

Miss Siebensthal is one of the co-eds at the State University who have been receiving track and field instruction under Coach Childs, the former Yale track athlete and the woman's athletic director.

The new mark is not official, as it was not made in any meet but a co-ed track meet, something new at Indiana, is to be held soon, and Miss Siebensthal will undoubtedly be able to repeat the performance, as she has been improving daily and may even better her present record easily before the end of the season.

Gives "Magic Flute."
Two entirely new ballets, "The Magic Flute" and an interpretation of Von Weber's "Invitation to the Dance," were the features of the performance of Pavlova and her troupe of dancers last night at the Mason. They proved as attractive as anything from a terpsichorean standpoint or anything the dancer has given thus far.

Tonight, Pavlova will give another new ballet, "Pyramus" in two complete parts. There will be the usual diversions.

The song of the old jimmy pipe just rings in your ears when you fire up load after load of Prince Albert—tobacco without a bite, without a parch. You can smoke it sun up to sun down without a comeback, because it is made by a patented process that removes the bite and the parch.

So, first thing after breakfast, you make fire with a match and open the day as do the little birds—with song and sunshine! Then you'll be right jimmy pipe joy us, which is good for what ails your smoke appetite!

PRINCE ALBERT

has jimmied open pipes for thousands of men who were once scorched—and, naturally, pipe-shy. The most sensitive tongue won't even tingle when you smoke P. A. So, you take a chance, and get some smoke fun sunshine into your system. For there's nothing friendlier nor truer to a man than his old jimmy pipe. And you'll know that's a fact quick as you hit the P. A. trail to pipesmokey joy!

Prince Albert makes a corking cigarette. You never put a cleverer smoke between your teeth. And P. A. rolls up mighty easy and without waste because its crimp cut—and stays put! You take a tip—and play ball!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere in tappy red bags. See the red tin, 10c; pound and half-pound tin humidors, and the handsome pound crystal-glass humidors with the sponge-moldester top that keeps P. A. perfect and right on the firing line at home and at the office all the time.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

The Majestic Theater is to continue as a picture house. The Major Film Manufacturing Company, through R. F. Modaff, has secured the lease on the Majestic Theater and building, and the new management occupy their new quarters this week. The lease is for a number of years.

It is the intention of the Major Film Company to make the Majestic one of the most attractive picture houses in the city, and only the highest grade photodramas will be booked, states the management. Many changes are to be made in the house to promote the comfort of patrons.

The Major Film Company announces that it will shortly build an extensive moving picture studio in Laurel Canyon, which promises to be the best equipped and most modern plant in Los Angeles.

Precious Time.
Charlie Chaplin leaves on Monday for New York to fulfill his new job at the Madison Square.

Ever figure it up? Nearly two thousand dollars a day, that's what Charlie Chaplin will play two performances a day, probably each of thirty minutes duration, a total of thirty minutes for thirty minutes, $180 a minute!

The Follies management is also said to have offered Chaplin $1500 a week for next season.

War Cross-section.
A Pavlova rehearsal resembles a cross-section of war. German war, that is, neat, orderly, but noisy, very noisy.

The orchestra plays, and when M. Frier, conductor, gets excited, he stamps. M'len Christine, ballet master, gestures and orders folks about in Russian, whether they understand it or not. And the chorus people who aren't rehearsing stand about and talk like soda fountains.

And in the midst of the instruction is Pavlova. She's everywhere at once, chirping corrections, dancing and using up a million dollars' worth of her most costly gestures, sometimes on mere chorus girls. She does a little dance with the fascinating violinists; then she races down to the footlights to tell M'len the conductor not to play the music "too quick. It makes the girls dance like jumping jacks, so-o-o," trips back and takes a fat blond little "pony" to hand, to labor with her for fifteen minutes in order to make the child do her steps right; then runs back for the big ensemble number.

And yesterday Pavlova slipped one of the dancing men! She did. One heard and saw the small, quick, plump, Reason? He had lifted her roughly and ungracefully in one of the posing scenes. He laughed and didn't seem to mind, and next time he did the stunt correctly.

All sorts of costume edgers the stage, from mere bloomers to wiled tulle ballet costumes of the vintage of 1813. Pavlova herself wears one of them.

Violinists, too, is never quiet. The others sink down for a few minutes' rest on occasion. Not he. Cried in old trousers and negligee shirt, which make him look like a plumber, he hops about like a kid for the sheer joy of life and movement. And always smiling. The rest may look serious, but violinists always smile radiantly, whether he's being scolded by the ballet master or praised by Pavlova for some specially graceful stunt.

Dovely Gift.
Mare Klaw sent Charlie Pike a goldheaded cane yesterday. Charlie will wear it only on gala occasions, like circus day and the week the Beekeepers' Association arrives in town over the Salt Lake.

Poor Little May!
May Allison, former musical comedy star, now leading woman for the American company in Santa Barbara, features her kneescap in a scene of "The House of a Thousand Scandals," a big feature now being filmed by the company. Miss Allison had to do a fall and roll down a long flight of stairs. This she accomplished successfully until she reached the bottom of the flight, when she struck her knee against the balustrade. She is in the city at present, receiving treatment, but expects to be able to go back to work next week.

Quincy Kid Leaves.
Ivan Kahn, "Kahndy Kid," leaves for New York on Sunday. He denies that he's going to make a New York tour, but he's going to accept an offer from A. H. Woods to appear in a musical comedy production next year, but isn't sure she will be able to accept on account of her contract with the American.

Real Jokesmiths.
Morton and Moore, appearing at the Orpheum, get off more good jokes to the square inch than pretty nearly anybody in vaudeville. But how those jokes do take unto themselves wings.

"The traveling men travel faster than we do," wails Moore. "And the small time folks steal 'em on us!" moans Morton.

Just to show that every one of their jokes is a first-run, they tell you where they got them.

"We were dancing at a New York cafe one night after supper," says Morton, "and I collided with a fat bald-headed man. I was indignant. 'Look out!' I cried. 'Haven't you any sense!' He grabbed me by the hair. 'I'd like to do that,' I cried snarlingly, 'but you haven't any hair.' He let go my head. 'Did you ever see grass grow on a boy's head?' he demanded."

Sob Note.
A voice and experience had Morton and Moore, at the beginning of their musical comedy career. K. & E. they say, wanted them for a musical comedy production, but he wanted them to have real whippers. So as the production didn't open until fall they went up into the mountains to grow a crop.

"It was awful," wails Morton. "In the first place, people around took us for ex-convicts and the country constable ran us in one day on suspicion. Next we fell in love with two pretty girls who wouldn't marry us on account of the ivy."

But the last blow was the worst. When we presented ourselves for rehearsal, Klaw wanted to know who we were. 'Why, we're the fellows who are to play the leads in your new place,' we explained hopefully. 'We've been out growing the whippers you wanted.' He exclaimed, 'they ain't the right color!'

Mary and the Browns.
The Pavlova music will be played next week at Tally's Broadway to accompany the Mary Pickford picture, "Fanchon the Crickler."

Twinkle in New York.
The big new film company just organized with Robert Warwick as its Coast manager, which took out its incorporation papers in Sacramento a week ago, and the name of which is withheld for the present, will probably complete the purchase of the Edendale film studio next week.

Several eastern stars will come West, and among the local people with whom negotiations are pending are Vera Simon, Mabel Van Buren, Ernest Betsey Ross, Of Hagan and Ross, a capital singing and reciting act, at the Hippodrome this week.

Joy, Jack Livingston, Norval MacGregor, and Gilbert Gardner. One studio of the company will be maintained at Palo Alto.

The full plans of the company will be ready for announcement next week.

Back Again.
Rock and Fulton are considering going into musical comedy next season in "Back Again," a musical comedy version of Nat Goodwin's old play, "Turned Up." It is quite possible they may appear first at the Morocco.

Zoo Note.
A comedy animal act will be a part of "Folly of the Circus," at the Hippodrome next week. The management has bought up a leopard skin, and a mule and a dog skin, and these have got to be used. So everybody is trying them on. But they seem to have shrunk a little, which of course lets James Corrigan out; but Jim Applebee and Billy Colvin feel sure they are elected.

Pincky Girl.
Carey King, noted auto racer of other days, died at El Monte, of tuberculosis, last Saturday night.

Anita King, his wife, who is appearing in pictures for the Lasky company, survives him. It will be recalled that last summer, when Carey was first taken ill, Mrs. King pluckily entered the Arizona race for which he was scheduled, but which he was too ill to run. She drove bravely for several miles, but, worn out from watching by her husband's side, she was seized with a spell of dizziness, lost control of her machine, and dashed into a fence, being taken from the wreck senseless and with a broken leg.

Carey King left a considerable estate.

Longers.
Mrs. Yorika, lately at the Orpheum, is still in the city, having closed her vaudeville engagement.

She will remain in the city during the summer, may do some picture work, but wishes principally to have the opportunity for further study.

Stop, Look, Listen.
The pipe organ entertainment in the lobby of the Majestic is causing a lot of people to stop, look, listen.

Mystery.
No one has yet come forward to claim that 100 bucks offered by Harriet Brooks at the Hippodrome to any one who will tell how he gets out of the trunk.

Most people haven't made a business of getting in and out of trunks. It's not done. So no wonder when a person gets fancy about it like Brooks. It's hard to explain without a book of rules.

Paddy Whack.
Chauncey Olcott comes to the Majestic next week in "The Heart of Paddy Whack."

In one scene he employs a real harpichord, and Miss Edith Lockett, his leading woman, who is an accomplished musician, plays his accompaniment on the tinkling old instrument.

The harpichord is a very old one, and is said to have been at one time the property of Mozart.

BILLIARD EVENTS.

Bowers defeated Kennedy in the city championship pocket-billiard tournament, running down 75 balls to 54 in sixteen innings, with high run of 23. This game closed the second round, with Kilmer leading on scores of three games won and no loss. Evans and Bowers have won two each, with no losses.

Games resume next Monday at the Majestic academy.

Darling succeeded in maintaining his handicap against Holladay in the combination pocket-billiard tournament at the Neime-Brunswick parlor, scoring 50 to 33 in sixty-one innings. This evening Randall captures Look at 50 to 40.

Wetmore and Clark contested a very close game in the Horseshoe tournament at the Neime-Brunswick parlor, the latter finally coming out by a narrow margin, winning by two balls, though Wetmore made high runs of 14. Totals stood at 75 to 75.

Steele and McMillan, winners of the first two games, play each other this evening.

NATIONAL PLAYER IS SUSPENDED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WRITER.)
CHICAGO, May 13.—First Baseman "Chick" Gandil of the Washington Americans today received word from President Johnson of the American League that he had been suspended for three days as the result of his altercation with Umpire Chitt yesterday. Gandil disputed one of Chitt's decisions.

ENTRIES BEING NOW RECEIVED.

Wallie Robb announced last night that he was now receiving entries for the Southern California Tennis Association's tournament to be held at the Hotel Virgiliana courts at Long Beach, May 24 and 25.

Tigers Take Seals Down.

of sacrifices. Singles by Wilcott, Risberg and Purcell and a walk by Barnes counted two more in the third.

Three of the five hits made off Check in eight innings were bunched in the fourth for a run, Helman doubling and Jones and Melan happening along with singles.

HANDSOME DEBUT.

Bugs Reisigl made his handsome debut in the fourth. He didn't seem to be quite ready, and walked Spencer. By that time he was in better shape, and fanned Check. He then suffered a relapse, and Tub scored when Charlie lammed the ball to the left field fence.

Walter thought that he had a home run, and ran clear around to the plate without once stopping or looking back. It took some time to convince him that he had made a mistake. Not until they showed Walter the ball with which he had been touched while sliding into the plate, would he believe it. Wait was under the impression that he had knocked the ball clear through the fence. It was a fast recovery by Schaller, and a long and precise peg by Corhan that upset Charlie's plans to make a home run.

After that there wasn't anything doing with Reislgl until the eighth, when the Seals began pulling off some funny stuff behind him. No man can look a name like Reislgl in the face and do much batting. Such a name is more baffling than the "fort" ball.

Pinz bodie was sent in to hit for Leard in the seventh by way of giving more variety to the programme. Pinz wasn't much to look at after his long vacation, and popped to Purcell. Downs finished the day out at second.

FAST THINKING.

Corhan missed Wilcott's grounder in the eighth. Barnes bunted to Jones. Jones then did a lot of rapid thinking. First he thought that he would throw the ball to first base. Then he thought that he would throw it to second, but restrained himself. Then his intellect switched around into its original channel and he thought he would throw to first. This time he suited the action to the thought, but it was too late. Barnes had already arrived, and Joe was at second hitting fouls. He Schmidt. Risberg grounded to Bugs, both runners advancing. Purcell drove to Jones for what should have been the third out, but he heaved wide to Helman and two counted. Praise be given.

After that there wasn't anything doing with Reislgl until the eighth, when the Seals began pulling off some funny stuff behind him. No man can look a name like Reislgl in the face and do much batting. Such a name is more baffling than the "fort" ball.

Pinz bodie was sent in to hit for Leard in the seventh by way of giving more variety to the programme. Pinz wasn't much to look at after his long vacation, and popped to Purcell. Downs finished the day out at second.

FAST THINKING.

Corhan missed Wilcott's grounder in the eighth. Barnes bunted to Jones. Jones then did a lot of rapid thinking. First he thought that he would throw the ball to first base. Then he thought that he would throw it to second, but restrained himself. Then his intellect switched around into its original channel and he thought he would throw to first. This time he suited the action to the thought, but it was too late. Barnes had already arrived, and Joe was at second hitting fouls. He Schmidt. Risberg grounded to Bugs, both runners advancing. Purcell drove to Jones for what should have been the third out, but he heaved wide to Helman and two counted. Praise be given.

CORPSE HANGS FROM WILLOW.

BODY JUST OVER THE COUNTY LINE AND SHERIFF BACKS AWAY.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
RIVERSIDE, May 13.—Riverside county officers were notified yesterday of the discovery of a corpse hanging from a willow tree in the vicinity of the Santa Ana River and the Riverside-Rialto road. An investigation by Sheriff Wilson and Coroner Dickson revealed the fact that the gruesome task of making a closer investigation rested with the officers of San Bernardino county, for the tree from which the body dangled is just over the line.

It is the opinion of the officers that the body had hung from the tree for at least six months. A bit of suspender and a piece of rawhide had been used to form a noose. The body is apparently that of a suicide, death resulting from strangulation. The man's clothing was of fair quality, a good overcoat and cane being among the belongings.

It was one of the foremost of the social circles in the city, and his position was unapproachable until the death of his wife. His death was a surprise to all who knew him. He was a man of high standing in the community, and his death was a great loss to the city.

But diligent search recovers it. The diamond ring was found in the possession of a man who had been seen in the vicinity of the body. The man was arrested and the ring was recovered. The man was released and the ring was returned to the owner.

COLLIER JASON LOADS STORES.

America's "Christmas Ship" Delivers Exhibits.

Contraband Supplies Destined for English Ports.

Coast Narrow-gauge Water Route to Harbor.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 13.—The United States collier Jason, famous as the Christmas ship selected to take presents from America to the Noted Christmas relief ship Jason, now in Los Angeles Harbor, which will leave today for Norfolk after bringing twenty millions in exhibits to the San Francisco fair.

orphans of soldiers killed in the war in Europe, arrived here today from San Francisco, and will proceed to Norfolk tomorrow after taking fuel and stores.

THE JASON returned from Europe recently bringing exhibits valued at $20,000,000 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. During the present war she visited Germany, England, France, Spain, Greece, Turkey and Egypt, and her cargo included the specimens of art and relics of history that cannot be duplicated today.

THE JASON is one of the latest types of colliers, and being of most unusual appearance, attracted much attention on the water front today. Both on account of her size and strange gear. The vessel is 112 feet in length and has a normal displacement of 19,125 tons. She carries sixteen cargo masts, which, being taller than the smokestacks, give the collier an unusual and strange appearance.

HEN DRIVES AWAY MOTHER CAT AND IS HOVERING HER KITTENS.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

CARPINTERIA, May 13.—Thomas Gaynor, of Punta Gorda, near Carpinteria, has a hen which has taken possession of a litter of young kittens and is attracting a great amount of attention. The kittens are two weeks old, now, but they have been under the care of Biddy since their birth.

Biddy was setting on eggs when the mother-cat gave birth to the kittens in the same manger with her. She immediately left the eggs and hovered the kittens. The only way the kittens have of gaining sustenance is by sneaking away from the hen to their mother who keeps a safe distance away from Biddy.

On occasions, the hen takes the litter out for a scratch in the dirt, but, while they appear to take a great interest in what she is doing, they are unable to find any food matter in the earth she tears up.

MOUNTAIN CREST SCENIC HIGHWAY.

HUNDRED-MILE DRIVE TO BE TAKEN WITH THREE DAYS FOR THE TRIP.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
SAN BERNARDINO, May 13.—Invitations are to be issued for the dedication trip on the San Bernardino Mountain Crest highway, the 101-mile boulevard on the "rim of the world," on June 19, 20 and 21. The Board of Supervisors will be joint hosts with the proprietors of the various resorts on the crest from Skyland into Bear Valley.

Dr. J. N. Baylis, owner of Pinecrest, has been placed by the Supervisors in charge of the trip. The programme outlined for the three days is as follows: Saturday, June 19.—Departure from San Bernardino to reach Thousand Pines in time for lunch. To Little Bear Valley via Squirrel Inn, and then back to Pinecrest for dinner and night's sleep.

Sunday, June 20.—Before the departure for Big Bear Valley the new highway will be dedicated, and John S. McGroarty of Los Angeles will be invited to deliver the address. Each Supervisor will plant a tree to be named for him. The Southern California Automobile Club will post a sign. Lunch will be served in the open in Green Valley and dinner will be served by the proprietors of Bear Valley. The night will be spent at Pine Knot.

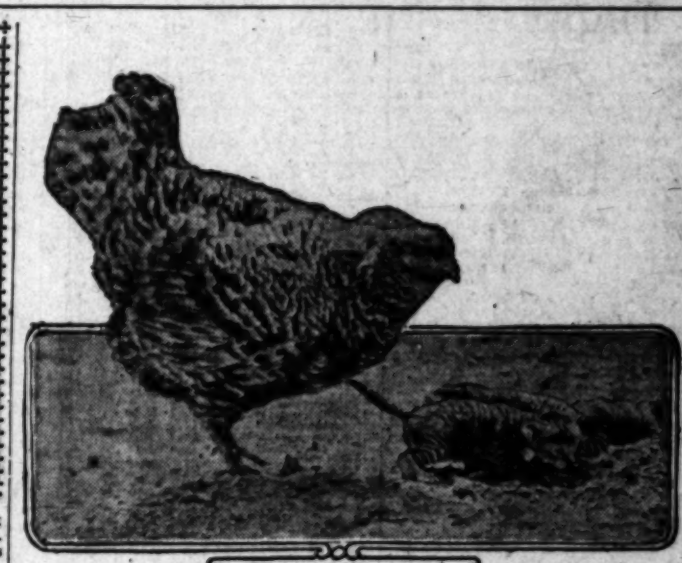

Monday, June 21.—Seven of Big Bear Lake and trip to Seven Oaks. The party will be divided, and those who must return to their business will leave Bear Valley direct for San Bernardino, the others lunching at Seven Oaks before returning.

CHURCH AGAINST RACE PREJUDICE. RIVERSIDE, May 13.—Resolutions disapproving of race prejudice, favoring the acceptance and opening of the Southern California Conference of Congregational Churches last night.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Cleveland, Ohio.—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."
